U. S. ARMY

Tuesday 5:30 PM

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Manley:

You are probably as suprised to receive this letter from me in this fashion, as I am to write it ~~you~~ to you from here.

The story is simple as ... as a result of my radio school training I had an opportunity to get into the Signal Corps with some technical training. It means I can now combine what little I already have under my belt with some branch of the service. I must now work hard to realize that ambition.

I did try to get you on the phone before I left a week ago yester, and have been planning to write to you many times each day. But in the Army you really have so little time for anything other than your assignments that letter writing in the early stages of the game is difficult.

I received word from home that your check of $50. arrived at the office and I have your letter. I will hope that your income tax will show that you are in a much better position than you now think as I believe that you will agree that the sum is is rather short of what it might have been. However, I am still prepared to stand, as always, on your judgment.

I'll write you frequently, I promise, and will do from here or from wherever I may be, as much as I can for you. Should you have any legal problems do not hesitate to call Mr. Eisner as he is handling all of my work and will continue to do so.

Regards,
Jerry Kessler
